Disaster and movement of population:
How to grasp and take an action for the movement of the population

7 February 2018 ~ 16 February 2018

GUIDELINE

1. Theme

Disaster and movement of population: How to grasp and take an action for the movement of the population

2. Goals

These days, there are children that are suffering of bullying at schools because they moved from Fukushima due to the Great East Japan Earthquake. We also can see that refugees from Middle East are not treated fairly in Europe. It is not fair that people that were forced to be moved from their hometown are being discriminated, and this is becoming a global issue. In the 7th International Student Forum, we want that students to discuss and learn by each other from many points of view about this issue.

About the preparation of the symposium

Participants should be prepared to the follow topic;

These days, the movement of the population is increasing for many kinds of reasons. In this symposium, we will separate the movement of the people who moved by themselves to the people who were forced to be moved. The contents that must contain the presentation are the situation of migration in the country that the participant is living or was born, the problems and the solves that the government is taking, etc. It is also compulsory to have some discussion questions to ask the audience after the presentation.

- One presentation per one university (In English)
- One group has 30 minutes (20 mins for the presentation & 10 for the discussion with the audience)
- The presentation must be prepared in Power Point.
