

The Field Study on the Tang Chang'an City

Eriko Furuuchi

In this foreign research and study, I made an observational investigation in the remains such as the temples and the Damming Palace etc. which were dotted with the ruins of Tang Chang'an City at Xi'an in Shaanxi province of China in order to clarify the scale and structure of the Chang'an City. Furthermore, visiting the Historical Study Institute of the Academy of Social Sciences and Beijing University which are engaging in the advanced historical study, the National Museum of China, the National Palace Museum, I made a collection of historical materials over the Chang'an City which were not available in Japan